

Andy comes to us with a diverse executive and digital-marketing background in the non-profit arena. Having worked in three large church environments over the past 20+ years, Andy has appreciated the challenges of a growing organization, including staff and cultural development, fund raising campaigns, volunteer coordination and marketing systems. Andy brings a big-picture perspective to how vision and fund development work hand in hand.