

Randy Huston, CFP

Randy Huston serves as Executive Vice President for Yellowstone Trust Administration, Inc., a third party administrator for Charitable Trusts.

Randy is a Certified Financial Planner © with expertise in charitable estate planning. He has a B.A. in Business Administration, a Master's Degree in Social Science and has been a Real Estate broker.

Randy has a unique perspective in the Charitable Trust field because of his background previously as a Planned Giving Officer, as a current owner of Yellowstone Trust Administration, Inc. and as a CFP. He is an advisor to advisors to show how charitable trusts can be a useful part of clients' financial plan.

As a charitable tax planning specialist, Randy has worked in the financial services field for over 30 years by supporting attorneys, CPA's and financial advisors throughout the country with charitable trust related information and administration services. Due to his wealth of experience in this highly specialized field, Randy is frequently called upon by the professional advisory community to share his knowledge through client illustrations and speaking engagements. Serving as the administrator on approximately 500 charitable trusts nationwide, Randy and his Yellowstone Trust Administration team are the go to source for charitable trust related matters.
