

Lucas Cooper

With evident gifts in both leadership and public address and a proven effectiveness in vocational ministry and the marketplace, Lucas is passionate about helping individuals and families leverage their resources for good. During his 25-year tenure in vocational ministry, Lucas served for nearly 8 years as the Lead Pastor of an historic church in Toronto, Canada, widely recognized as the world's most multi-ethnic city. Under his leadership, the church experienced exponential numerical growth (from 400 to more than 2000 attendees), renewed vision and passion, and increased organizational health. In July of 2021, Lucas accepted a role with Redline Athletics, a franchise concept youth sports performance brand and, as the Chief of Staff, helped the organization grow from 32 to 55 locations in just 19 months. In February of 2023, Lucas accepted a role with the National Christian Foundation (NCF) as the Vice President of Network Relations.
